SHOOTING AT O'BRIEN.

The Irish Editor Meets Two Warm Receptions in Hamilton.

He is Welcomed at the Station and is Shot at After the Meeting.

A Quiet Meeting Held—While Driving Home a Number of Shots Are Fired at the Carriage—The Driver is Dangerously Wounded—The Greatest Excitement Prevailing.

(Special to THE COLONIST.)

NIAGARA FALLS, May 23.—Mr. O'Brien arose in the morning so weak as to be almost unable to stand. He, however, insisted on leaving for Hamilton by the noon train. Toronto is not more than forty miles from Hamilton, and it is understood to-day that bodies of Orangemen intend to make a descent from the larger city upon Hamilton and join with local Orangemen in making an attack on Mr. O'Brien's life. The nationalists will be organized this time. Mr. O'Brien approves of the idea that they should be, and that outside aid should be sent to Hamilton, which will now probably be done by his friends in Buffalo and other Irish centres.

AT HAMILTON.

HAMILTON, Ont., May 23.—O'Brien met with a reception here which threw everything that has occurred up to the present time in the shade. As he was helped out of the car his eyes rested upon such an extraordinary sight, as it is said by the citizens, not to have been seen in this town during many years. There, under the scorching rays of the sun, with their hats off, was a vast body of stalwart men, packed so closely together that a passage could not be made for some minutes. In vain did Mr. Kilbride and his other friends beseech the thronging thousands to make way and to stop shaking hands with Mr O'Brien. Finally the procession of carriages moved and proceeded to the Royal hotel, saluted with cheers all along the whole route. The meeting was held at eight o'clock in the Palace rink on Jackson street, about half a mile from the hotel. Outside the hotel a large crowd had gathered, only a few of whom were anti-O'Brienites. O'Brien begged the indulgence of the audience on account of his condition, and proceeded to speak with such force as he had, covering in the main the same ground which he had heretofore covered in his speeches. After Mr. O'Brien sat down, the chairman read a cablegram of sympathy from McCarthy, Sexton, Healy, Dillon and Biggar.

Geo. Collins, an Englishman, who also addressed the meeting, astonished the audience by the bitterness of his attack on Lansdowne.

Frederick Walters, president of the iron moulders' union, J. H. Racey and Edward Williams, all Englishmen, and Wm. Berry, an Orangeman, made speeches, after which resolutions condemning Lord Lansdowne were passed. A crowd of several hundred collected in Jackson street opposite the rink, just as was the case at Kingston, while the meeting was going on. They were Orangemen, but the chief of police drove them away and allowed no one to stand on the block. What he did probably prevented a riot, for had there been any attack the men who had met O'Brien at the depot in the forenoon and who were on hand in hundreds marching up and down the side streets would have done terrible execution. O'Brien's bodyguard in Hamilton was an organized reality. All was quiet up to this but the worst was to come.

Another attack was made upon O'Brien this time with fire arms and again there was another miraculous escape, this escape, however, being accompanied by a wound in the wrist of one of O'Brien's faithful companions. O'Brien was sitting down after having made a vigorous speech in return for the vote of thanks passed, and Kilbride was engaged in a like task. Just then a man was observed on the platform leaning over and whispering something in O'Brien's ear. It was noticed that O'Brien shook his head as though in dissent. The man persisted. Half of the audience row rose to their feet, peering over each other's heads and anxiously striving to catch a glimpse of what was going forward on the platform. The chairman tried to quell the anxiety by asking the audience to hear Kilbride; but the crowd of a thousand people primed with angry feelings that have lasted since two successive attempts on O'Brien at Kingston and Toronto were not easily quieted down. They had noticed that the man whispered to O'Brien and they were evidently determined to see what it meant. The man again made a silent appeal, whatever it was and again O'Brien shook his head. Still one more appeal was made and this time O'Brien seemed to acquiesce. The first sign of commotion was when Mr. O'Brien got up and left the platform. This was in response to the request several times made to him which he had already refused. It was the idea of some officious and meddling man—a plan which he had to save O'Brien's life. The plan was to leave the rink by a narrow alley, then reach McNab street and jump into a carriage in waiting and drive to the hotel. It was the first time during his tour that he did not go out the ordinary way and the plan well nigh cost him his life. In the carriage which was covered only, besides O'Brien, were Messrs. McMahon and Roche, of the local branch of the national league and Dennis Kilbride. On the driver's seat were John Nelson who held the reins and T. P. O'Brien. As they whipped up the horses and faced for the hotel a crowd suddenly appeared. This crowd proved unfriendly, for no sooner had O'Brien and his friends taken their places than they set up the usual hissing and groaning, which afterwards proved to be a signal to a group of five men who lurked around the market building in Market square. The men who hissed and groaned followed the carriage, and as it wheeled into the market square there was a sudden click; the horses pranced and a flash of light suddenly overspread the group of buildings where the men lurked. The reins dropped out of John Nelson's hands and, with an exclamation, "Oh! my God, I'm shot!" he fell forward on the seat. Crash, crash, as quick as lightning, and through bright flashes of flame, sped bullets from two revolvers until eight shots had been fired. O'Brien stretched forward to look out, and as he did so a ball whistled by his face and passed through the opposite window without harming anybody. T. P. O'Brien, Nelson's companion, who had been dazed, now grasped the reins and dashed the horses through the square into James street and down to the hotel, at the corner of James and Merrick streets. Here there was a hostile crowd, who again hooted as the party within tried to open the door, but could not. Mr. McMahon jumped over the door and, drawing a revolver, held the crowd at bay while O'Brien and his friends were making their exit from the carriage, also by the same uncomfortable way. As the party stepped into the corridor of the hotel a volley of rotten eggs were hurled at them, but no one was hit. Chief McKinnon and his men now rushed up but all was over. Nelson was taken to the city hospital. Dr. James White extracted the bullet. He says the wound is dangerous. It is on the left wrist. No arrests were made.

When Mr. O'Brien reached his room he was smiling and cheerful, and nobody to look at him would have supposed that he had just escaped from the last of a series of attempts to take his life.

As this dispatch is being written there is a great deal of excitement in the streets. Fire crackers and powder are being exploded in all directions and fire arms are being discharged, a kind of preliminary celebration of the Queen's birthday.

CABLE NEWS.

Conclusion of the Sale.

PARIS, May 23:—The sale of crown jewels was concluded. The chief lot of the diamonds of the head dress was sold in sixteen pieces for 650,000 francs. The proceeds of the nine days' sale is 6,864,000 francs.

At the sale of the crown jewels Tiffany & Co., of New York, bought three of the famous Mazarin diamonds for 425,000 francs. The four others went to European buyers.

The French Cabinet.

M. Clemenceau yesterday told M. Rouvier that he would not promise to support any cabinet, but was perfectly willing to take office himself with young and new men. President Grevy still refuses to call on M. Clemenceau, although he has seen several others. It is expected that the president will again ask M. THE FIRST TRAIN

Reaches Vancouver City on Time Yesterday.

The Citizens Turn Out and Give It a Joyous Welcome.

Supt. Abbott Receives an Address—The Engine Gaily Decorated—Music and Torch-light Procession Close the Day.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

VANCOUVER, May 23.—The Queen's weather ushered in the day long looked for by Vancouverites, the blending of the Occident with the Orient, the final accomplishment of the great transcontinental line of railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The first train from the Royal City arrived early in the morning, bringing a large excursion party, ladies predominating, indeed they, and the fair women of Vancouver lent an additional charm to the scene, which, on the arrival of the train was a very brilliant one. The first local New Westminster train left the terminal city reaching Port Moody on time at 11:35, and crossed the Atlantic express at Westminster Junction, Conductor Trodden in charge, brakeman W. McLeod, baggage master J. S. Fraser, engineer J. Kennedy, fireman F. Britle. They landed engine No. 96 successfully at the fresh water terminus.

NO. 1 WEST BOUND TRAIN.

was in the keeping of Conductor Barnhardt, brakemen J. Madigan and J. Kirby, baggage master J. Kavanagh. Engine No. 374 which was ably managed by engineer Righter and fireman Geo. Taylor, was decorated, these being designed at Kamloops by L. R. Johnson, master mechanic, from which point it was sent down to North Bend. The engine was a mass of verdure and mottoes and flags and was perhaps the prettiest sight ever seen on the coast. "From Ocean to Ocean" was conspicuous on the engine, and on the tender; "Our National Highway" on buffer beam; "Montreal and Vancouver" was the name on a shield joined by an evergreen wreath; on the smokestack, "Montreal Greets the Terminal City," was displayed in white letters on a dark ground. In honor of the jubilee the headlight was ornamented with a painting of the Queen, surmounted with a crown. On the headlamp a shield was on each side, the one on the right showing the date of incorporation and on the left of the completion. Hanging from the headlamp brackets were two flags, one on either side, labelled respectively "Atlantic" and "Pacific." The rail guard was prettily decorated with red and white streamers bound round. Inscribed on the number plate were the talismanic words "Arcadia" and "Eldorado." As the train reached Vancouver carrying the officers of the road, representative Vancouver citizens and your special correspondent, it was greeted with cheers at every point. Streamers floated to the breeze across the track at different points, while the ships and boats in the harbor were resplendent in their variegated colors. At the railway wharf, which was

it seemed as if all Vancouver had congregated, and a mighty shout went up as the train thundered into the station between the handsome double arch of fir. As the engine rolled on it was greeted with the following mottoes:—"Occident Greets the Orient," and "Confederation Accomplished," while facing the city "Labor Omnia Vincet," and "Vancouver" surrounded the arch. The train comprised a baggage, colonist sleeper, first-class and sleeper, and drawing room car. There were many eastern passengers who proudly boasted they were the first to come through from Montreal, the centre of Canadian commerce, to this ambitious young city, destined for a large part in the future of British Columbia. The trip from Port Moody to Vancouver is delightful in the extreme, and a pleasant ending to the finest scenic route on the continent. Skirting the pleasant waters of Burrard Inlet the entire distance the laughing waters seemed to smile a kindly welcome, while the everlasting hills snow-crowned towered above, seeming to realize their majesty and sublimity. At Moodyville and the Mission, as well as at this city, flags were seen and amid all the grand in nature and resources the best civilization of the Atlantic

SHOOK HANDS WITH THE PACIFIC.

The Vancouver city band struck up "See the Conquering Hero Comes" in good time, when Mayor McLean mounted the platform and proposed three cheers for the C. P. R. These were given with a tiger, when, by request, H. Abbott, general superintendent and Alderman Oppenheimer, took seats near him. The mayor trusted the greatest cordiality would exist between the two cities. The sentiment was received with cheers by the Victorians. He welcomed the strangers in our midst. Vancouver now realized the fact that the railway was completed from ocean to ocean, and had reached the consummation of all its ardent desirers. (Cheers.) The mayor then read the following address:

To Henry Abbott, Esq., Genl. Supt. of the Pacific Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

SIR,—Less than one year ago the city of Vancouver presented, through me, its congratulations to the company you represent, on the auspicious occasion of the arrival of the first train from the Atlantic to tidal water on the Pacific at Port Moody. To-day upon the completion of the line to this, its western terminus, the City of Vancouver again tenders a hearty greeting to the company you represent, and trusts that the great undertaking you so happily concluded will realize all the expectations of its energetic managers, of the young Dominion which projected it, by the great empire of which we happily form a part and of the commercial world at large. We have assembled here to-day to welcome the arrival of the first through train which is the greatest event in the history of our city, and which is of the utmost importance to the province at large. To the Canadian Pacific railway is due the prosperity of our country and the progress our city has made since the lamentable day of the 13th of June, and this occasion should be as memorable in honor of Canadian Pacific Railway Company, its directors and the government of Sir John A. Macdonald who have placed Vancouver among the important cities of Her Majesty's possessions. Before concluding this address allow me to place on record the high appreciation that, as citizens of Vancouver, we have for you personally and the care and courteous treatment we have received at your hands since your arrival amongst us.

(Signed.) M. A. MACLEAN.
Mayor.

Mr. Abbott, the popular superintendent of the road, was obliged to acknowledge the rousing cheers which greeted him. As he looked down upon the sea of upturned faces, he said he had the greatest pleasure in accepting the congratulations on securing the railway. Connection with this point had been bitterly opposed, but he didn't care to comment upon it. The company acted upon what it believed to be right, and here we are and here we intend to remain (deafening cheers). As the mayor remarked, the progress made since the fire was unprecedented and one could not believe such a change possible. More passengers were coming now than ever before, and he only hoped they would remain in the country. It had mountains, but valleys too, and agricultural resources perhaps not sufficiently realized. As to the company believes in it and look forward to grand possibilities. Only on the 17th ult. the steamer left Hongkong for this port and every cabin was taken up before she left. The energy displayed was a sufficient guarantee that the people of Vancouver were up to the spirit of the times and ready to march forward in the van of progress. (Cheers.) Personally he had to thank them for the kind remarks in the address. He had always tried to do his duty to the utmost of his power, and would continue to do so. He hoped the people would always have the same good opinion of him. (Applause.)

After a selection by the band, E. V. Bodwell addressed the assemblage, making a fine impression.

Cheers were then given for New Westminster and Victoria. THE COLONIST was loudly called for, but its representative, with true reportorial modesty, failed to connect.

Three hearty cheers for the Queen brought the interesting proceedings to a close. A feature of the extension is the admirable construction. This is due in a large measure to the great executive ability of H. Abbott, general superintendent, most worthily aided by W. Downie, assistant-superintendent, and W. H. Armstrong, superintendent of construction. D. E. Brown, general freight agent, as usual, bobbed up serenely and was assiduous in his attentions.

Vancouver is naturally jubilant, and to-night is joyous. The city band and torch-light procession is serenading Mr. Abbott and other officials of the road. The sweet strains of music are a fitting ending to the red letter day in the history of this city over the gulf. Vancouver greets the capital, realizing that the success of one is bound up in the other, and with a long pull and a strong pull and a pull altogether, they naturally hepe to raise the Pacific province to the proud heights she must in time attain.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR BLAKE.

Of Port Townsend, Found Insane and Dying in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 22.—A distinguished looking old man, wearing fashionably cut garments, and carrying a Russia leather bag, was acting so queerly on the Harrison street bridge, late yesterday afternoon, that the policeman on duty there led him to the Armory police station. The city physician said he was insane, and he was taken to the insane ward of the county jail. He was seemingly conscious, though he was not able to speak intelligently.

Beside the usual travelling equipments, his valise contains a mass of papers and correspondence neatly arranged and setting forth his case against ex-Collector Beecher. Blake sank into a stupor this morning from which he cannot be roused. He is evidently dying. The doctor says it is a peculiar case and that he may be suffering from a partial paralysis caused either by a concussion from a fall or the bursting of a blood vessel.

MURDER AT KAMLOOPS.

Frank Spencer Shoots Peter Foster—The Victim Dies and the Murderer Escapes.

KAMLOOPS, B. C., May 21.—Last evening, about 7 o'clock, two men named Peter Foster and Frank Spencer, who have been working on Campbell's ranch, about eleven miles east of Kamloops, quarreled and exchanged blows. Spencer seized a knife and chased Foster, but was foiled in his attempt. He then took up a Winchester rifle and deliberately fired at Foster. The ball penetrated the right arm, and passing through the stomach lodged in his left side. The wounded man was immediately brought to the hospital and the ball extracted by Dr. Tunstall. Although every effort was made to save his life he gradually sank, and died at 4 o'clock to-day. The murderer escaped. The authorities have sent parties in pursuit.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Report reached Henly, Cal., on Friday that two white men and nine Chinamen were killed on Thursday night by the caving in of Siskyou mountain tunnel. News received there Saturday, however, says no one was killed by the accident.

A dispatch from New Orleans says: The Picayune, of Key West, has it that the board of health officially announced the appearance of a case of yellow fever. The patient is a carpenter and has been here since last December. The city is full of strangers and an early exodus is expected.

On the run from the Clyde to Cowes during a gale on Friday the new racing yacht Thistle lost her bowsprit and received other damage. She reports picking up three of the crew of the steamer Harkaway, which had foundered, carrying down sixteen of the crew. Six of the men managed to secure the life boat but three of that number died.

The stage driver on the route between Billings, Montana, and Meleetso, disappeared on Sunday with quite a sum of money belonging to the stage company. Two certificates on the First National bank, payable to Jean Headouville and R. Vion for four thousand each are also missing from the way pouch and are supposed to have been taken by the missing Jehu.

The White Star Line steamers Celtic and Brittannic collided on the 19th inst. in mid ocean, while the weather was calm and the sea smooth. A panic ensued and several immigrants who were in the bow of the Britannic were killed by the concussion. The ship was immediately turned back to New York accompanied by the Celtic

The international bicycle race took place at Alexandria palace Saturday. The race was handicap for one mile, owing to the rain the time was slow. Woodside, who was scratched, won by a yard and a half, covering the distance in 3.05½; Temple, of Chicago, who had 40 yards start, second; Park, of Wolverhampton, 103 yards, third; Morgan, American, 70 yards, fourth.

A Vienna dispatch says: The Maros river, Transylvania, overflowed its banks, flooding the town of Kartburg and interrupting railroad traffic. Rain was still falling. The troops were engaged rescuing property in the flooded territory, and immense damage has been caused by the floods in Nagyed district.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

Sixty-eight years ago to-day within the homely brick walls of Kensington palace the good Queen whose name is enshrined in the hearts of all her subjects wherever the Old Flag floats first saw the light of day. She alone of the little group of Royal children born in that year was English by actual birth. English she has ever been, true to the high destinies to which she was at a very early age called. We have a fine picture of her enthusiasm for the land over which she so nobly reigns when the grand news from the Crimea was brought to her at her Scottish home. By her command the great fire was lighted on Craig Gowan to tell to the little world in which she lived that British arms and British courage had triumphed over their foes. And the same deep interest in all that pertains to her loving subjects has been characteristic of her throughout the years. In war, in peace, she has been the devoted sovereign, all her energies pent up in the advancement of her country, all her hopes centered in the land she loves so well. Grief, alas, has not been a stranger to her. When Albert the Good died all the light seemed for her to have gone out of the world for, the first gentleman of Europe, he always wore that "white flower of a blameless life" which has been immortalized by the laureate. But she bore her widowhood with a sweet resignation, looking forward to that time when the threads of life, an eternal life, shall be taken up again in that fair country where sorrow and parting are no more. Never even in the darkest hour of her distress has she been neglectful of the trying duties cast upon her as Queen of that wide realm upon which the sun never sets. While as wife she was peerless, as mother she has been an example to all her people. Upon her fair fame there rests no stain—the noble Queen, the devoted wife, the affectionate mother, historians will write that she was the grandest Sovereign who ever wore the diadem. In this her jubilee year her subjects will have an opportunity never before accorded them of testifying worthily their loyalty to her throne and person. Nowhere is there a deeper attachment to the Queen than in this Canada of ours—nowhere will her name be received with heartier shouts of acclaim than in this young Dominion, which is proud to boast the gentle Lady as its beloved Queen. That her days may be long in the land will be the prayer of the leal and true everywhere, for all nations have learned to love Britain's Ruler for all her goodness and purity and strength. She has not yet passed the line which separates middle life from old age; but there is every reason to believe that her path will lie far beyond it, and her history present to posterity the venerable picture of an aged Sovereign, as it has already furnished the most charming and characteristic of romance of Royal love and youth. And we are sure there is no one in all her Gracious Majesty's dominions who does not wish her a life as prolonged as human nature permits, and as many blessings as life, impoverished yet rich, can bestow.

Still as the years roll on hail we the day
That marks our Sovereign Lady's happy birth;
And her glad subjects, spread o'er the wide earth,
In loyal speech and song their love display
For the good Queen, under whose gentle sway
No slave draws breath, no freeman's honest worth
Fears th' oppressor's rod, no patriot mourns the dearth
Of Truth and Justice; who, by steady ray
Shed from her throne o'er all the empire vast,
The influence sweet of Purity imparts;
True daughter, wife and mother—round her name,
Auspicious and revered, while time shall last,
The hallowed thoughts will cluster that proclaim,
VICTORIA, Queen and Empress dear in all our hearts.

THE CORKSCREWS BENDING.

The organ of the Corkscrews declines to bandy any more words with THE COLONIST on the subject of water extension. Who began it? The Corkscrew Brigade did a cowardly act in breaking up a sitting of the council by shirking a vote and their organ roared like a bully when it demanded that the majority should be turned out because they refuse to yield to the wishes of the minority. The corkscrews are a rather clever set of men; but in one respect their education has been neglected. They have yet to learn that in all deliberative bodies the majority rules, and should they continue their obstructive tactics till the crack of doom they will be no nearer a solution of the difficulty than they are at present. Let them resolve to act in the future like men; not like children,—who because they cannot have things their own way decline to have them at all—and they will find the majority ready and willing to meet them more than half way in negotiations for a settlement. The majority may yield to argument; but never to brute force.

TYPHOID AT CAIRO.

The prevalence of typhoid and other forms of malarial fever at Cairo during the past few months tends to complete the ruin of the reputation of the Egyptian capital as a winter resort for invalids. Within the last few years the climate of the Nile delta has entirely changed, and whereas until 1878 such a thing as rain was entirely unknown at Cairo, there is nowadays one perpetual and almost tropical downpour, which commences in November and lasts until March. Not only this, but two years ago there was actually a snowfall at Suez, on the shores of the Red sea, which astounded and frightened the natives. The atmospheric changes which are sometimes attributed to the existence of the Suez canal and of the Sweet Water canal, are naturally causing a complete revolution in the construction of houses and mode of life. The entire roofs have had to be rendered water-tight, fire-places and stoves installed in all the rooms instead of the old-time braziers, and even the unfortunate fellah is on the lookout for some more resisting material than the dried mud which he has hitherto used to build his hovel. A much serious result, however, is the growing unhealthiness of the place. The Cairo of to-day is built on the ruins of some eight or ten defunct cities which have in turn preceded it during the centuries. It is perched on the top of a sort of plateau formed by some sixty feet of detritus of all kinds. Potsherds, wickerwork, cinders, scraps of metal, bits of tile, and heaven only knows what else besides, constitute the substrata of the city. Now, as long as there was no regular rainfall no ill effects were experienced, for the annual inundation of the Nile merely affected the immediate vicinity of the river banks. But the climate changes have altered this. The heavy rain which falls day after day during the winter months regularly soaks through the detritus and in fact renders it nothing more or less than a heap of wet garbage. Every night a dense gray mist may be observed rising up from the ground and shrouding the city, to which, strange to say, invalids are sent in search of health. Moreover, the moisture in conjunction with the detritus produces a sort of chemical substance which saps and literally eats away the foundations of the old buildings. In a few years the incomparable tombs of the caliphs and Mamelukes, with all their delicate tracery and emblems of the most glorious period of Saracenic art, will have disappeared, and very serious fears are entertained about the existence of the grand old mosque of Sultan Hassan, the principal Basilica—if so it may be termed—of the Mohammedan religion.

THE AMEER'S MANIFESTO.

The Calcutta correspondent of the Times, in a telegram dated April 10, says. Reference has been made of late to a manifesto or proclamation issued by the Ameer, and said to have been scattered broadcast over Afghanistan. The Times of India has received a copy of the document, which is described as a pamphlet of eight octavo pages, printed in Persian characters of the Cabul government press. From the translation which that newspaper publishes it appears that the Ameer's object is not so much to preach a Jehad, as to inform the people of what is passing in Europe. It begins in these words: "O! people of Afghanistan, who are the tribes of Durranis, Ghilzais, Farsiban, Hazaras and Turks that live in Afghanistan, and who are true believers and Mussulmans, I have the pleasure to inform you about what has occurred to your brethren in Turkey, who being obedient and loyal to their religion and Empire have acted wisely. This book contains a few lines to guide you to the right path, and it is necessary for you to act upon the same that you may be respected in this world and be rewarded in the next. Those men who defend religion, and are loyal, and support their families, and serve their country should act as advised. By doing so they will be happy in this world by the favor of God. I speak only to direct you to be very careful in this matter, and to follow advice, as there is no remedy besides the same. You must act as men, otherwise you will be attacked by the enemy." The Ameer then goes on to say that early last November the Sultan of Turkey summoned his military and civil officers, and informed them that in former times it was considered disgraceful to break a treaty. If one power tried to do all the other powers interfered. Now, however, all this was changed. Policy had become a name for the violation of treaties and friendship was changed into fraud. He therefore commanded them to be cautious, for they were surrounded by infidels, and war was expected between the powers. They should take care of their reputation and religion, otherwise Mahomed's religion might disappear. After hearing the Sultan's speech each officer wrote to his own country on the subject, and on December 18th they again assembled and informed the Sultan that the people were anxious that 1,000,000 soldiers, all good Moslems, should be prepared for war.

PROVINCIAL DEFENCES.

The Senate Discussion on Columbia's Defenceless Condition—Esquimalt Dock.

OTTAWA, May 14.—The following is a full report of the discussion in the senate yesterday on the defences of B. C.:

Hon. Mr Macdonald moved: That an humble address be presented to his excellency the governor-general, praying that his excellency will cause to be laid before this house copies of all correspondence between the Imperial and Dominion governments relating to the defences of British Columbia between the years 1886-7. He said—"The subject to which my motion relates has been deemed worthy of some consideration by the Imperial and Dominion governments, and by some prominent members of the English parliament also, and although I bring it forward, yet its importance in a time of peace may be taken as sufficient justification for my doing so. We must not lose sight of the fact that we have two restless, vigilant neighbors across the Pacific with which the empire may at any time become embroiled. It will, I think, be readily conseded that a time of war is not the time to make ready and prepare defences. These are matters which require accurate local knowledge and military judgment to which more attention can be given in time of peace than during the turmoil of war. No doubt the Dominion will have year by year to look more to its defences, and it may fairly be accepted as a fact that in case of the empire being at war our enemy would be a naval force; it therefore becomes a duty to place the most exposed portions of our coast, east and west, in a strong and defensive position as possible. The naval dockyard at Esquimalt seems to me to be a harbor easily fortified. It is commanded by prominent bluffs, the water is deep and it can be made without difficulty almost impregnable. There is a dry dock there, but it seems to me that the dry dock there is not large enough for the requirements of the present day."

Hon. Mr. Kaulbach said he thought that it had been extended, but it seemed to be insufficient to take in the large class of ocean steamers.

Hon. Mr. Macdonald (B.C.)—It is 450 feet long.

Hon. Mr. Kaulbach—Even with 450 feet long it was not of sufficient size to take in the Atlantic line steamers, and if anything could be done to extend that dock now while the plant and appliances are yet there, I am sure it could be done with much less expense than it can be done hereafter. It is very important that that dockyard be made of sufficient capacity to take in a man-of-war or any other large vessel which in emergency might require to be repaired. I am very glad that my honorable friend has taken this matter up, for, no doubt, Great Britain is alive to all her interests in the different parts of the empire, and she has awoke of late to a great regard for Canada, which has done something for herself in building our great C. P. R.

Hon. Mr. Dickey—Before the minister rises to express the opinion of the government upon this question I should like to know whether my honorable friend who has made the motion has taken into consideration the propriety of the expediency of giving the information which is asked for by his motion. My honorable friend has spoken of a restless and watchful enemy who is anxiously looking out in reference to the subject matter of that motion, and who will very naturally be very anxious to get the confidential communications that passed between the two governments. Of course that is a matter which must be left entirely in the discretion of the government as to whether those communications are of such a character that they should be produced in the public interest. But there may be doubt possibly as to whether all communications are of that character and the government will of course exercise their discretion to see that that "watchful enemy," whatever country it may be, will not gain any advantage by getting access to the private communications between the two governments on such a delicate subject. As my honorable friend has been kind enough by way of supporting his motion to refer to the fortifications and guns on the Atlantic coast in Nova Scotia, I think I am justified at the present moment in stating that the people of Nova Scotia intend to stand by those guns.

Hon. Mr. Mcadonald (B.C.)—I think it is entirely for the government to bring down what they think is advisable, but this "restless enemy" knows as well as we do now that our coasts are defenceless. They are viligant and active and know just the position we stand in. The English government never conceal anything from anybody. Their arsenals are open to the inspection of every nation; they tell what they are doing and what they are going to do and everything is open and above board.

Hon. Mr. Kaulbach—He must be an extreme optimist who will say that quarrels will not crop up some time, and may be near our own doors, especially at the present moment. As regards British Columbia and the dockyard there, I may say I have been in that country and was surprised to find that in the past our interests on the Pacific coast were not respected; that foreign nations had dominated the approaches and command of the harbors on that coast.

Hon. Mr. Smith—I will just say that the government will no doubt bring down what they consider in the interests to the public in answer to the motion.

LATE CANADIAN NEWS.

ONTARIO.

Great excitement has been caused by the departure of Mr. Cleverdon, reeve of Strathroy, warden of the county of Middlesex, and superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school, who is reported to have skipped, leaving very heavy liabilities and a quantity of forged paper behind. Developments show that merchants, bankers, brokers, insurance agents, and, in fact, everybody has been taken in. One bank, it is alleged, is in for $18,000 advanced to Cleverdon on forged bills of lading. Cleverdon was one of the largest cheese exporters in Canada. He shipped mostly to Liverpool firms, and they gave the bank instructions to cash all sight drafts made by Cleverdon on them on production of the bills of lading without waiting to first find out if the Liverpool firm would accept them. Cleverdon had been working on this principle for a long time, and therefore when he produced bills of lading for $18,000 worth of cheese it excited no suspicion. Now, it is said, these bills were forged and that not one pound of cheese was ever shipped.

QUEBEC.

Mr. Smithers, president of the Bank of Montreal, is dead.

Canadian Pacific railway company earnings for the week ending May 14th were $214,000; same week, last year, $180,000.

The 65th French Canadian regiment, of Montreal, has been refused permission to visit Highgate Springs, Vermont, on the occasion of the Queen's birthday jubilee. The minister of militia takes the ground that it would be a bad precedent to establish in view of the feeling existing over O'Brien's visit and the fishery and other questions. He also cites the fact that the governor of New York refused permission to the 69th New York to visit Canada. Members of the regiment are indignant.

Leading members of the Knights of Labor, of Montreal, say all Roman Catholic knights have complied with the injunction of the cardinal, and approached the tribunal of pennance, and accused themselves of having formed part of the order. It will be remembered that they were granted forty days from Easter, that is until the feast of Ascension, which occurs Thursday, to do this. All priests who heard their confessions took down their names and addresses for future use. They were not informed that they would have to leave the order.

A jubilee festival in honor of the golden wedding of Rev. Fathers Dowd and Toupin was held in the Queen's hall, Montreal, on the 17th. It was a fitting tribute to their worth. An original poem, entitled "Fifty Years in the Master's Vineyard," was read.

MANITOBA.

Great excitement prevails in Winnipeg over the threat of the C. P. R. to give Winnipeg the go-by. Norquay says the road will be built to the boundary, no matter what action the C. P. R. may take. The Northern Pacific has let the contract for the construction of a road between Grand Forks and the boundary.

The delay of the train which should have reached Calgary Thursday morning from the west was caused by the bridge over Bryan's creek, west of Donald, having been shattered and partially carried away by a landslide. The bridge was about 75 feet high and 100 feet long. The train and passengers were detained at the Glacier Hotel till such time as the little army of workmen had fixed the bridge so that it mould bear a lorrie over. Then the train was brought up and passengers, baggage and mails transferred. The bridge was completely ruined, but will be replaced in a day or two. The delayed passengers speak in the highest terms of their treatment at the expense of the company at Glacier Hotel, contrasting C. P. R. methods in the most favorable light with those of American transcontinental roads.

Imperial Fortifications.

Instructions have been received from the Imperial authorities to survey Sangster's plains for the purpose of erecting a large battery for defensive purposes. This point is considered a very important one.

Drunks.

Jennie, a Hydah Indian woman and Bill, a Fort Rupert, were both charged with being drunk yesterday morning in Mr. Johnson's court. Both had swelled heads and pleaded guilty to the charge. His honor fined them $5 or one week each.

The Buggy Rug.

Ah Lee, who has been remanded at the police court from time to time on a charge of stealing a buggy rug, was admitted to bail in the sum of $25 yesterday and ordered to appear on Thursday. In the meantime the police authorities will endeavor to find the owner of the rug.

The Conspiracy Case.

Wong Foo and Shap Moi, the two prisoners in the Too Far conspiracy case who were on remand, were again brought up yesterday in the police court. The woman Shap Moi was discharged, but Wong Foo was sent up for trial. His honor admitted him to bail in the sum of $2000 himself and two sureties in $1000 each.

Cricket.

The following gentlemen will represent Victoria to-day in a match against the Fleet at Beacon hill:—J. W. Sinclair (captain) C. E. Pooley, P. Æ. Irving, E. A. Wylde, N. P. Snowden, J. Finnelly, H. Hett, W. A. Ward, B. T. Drake, J. K. Worsfold and H. J. Campbell. Play is fixed to commence at 10:30 a. m., and it is hoped that the home eleven will for once be punctual.

The Case of Stealing.

Ah Hin, a respectable looking Chinaman who has a very wicked eye, took up the time of the police court yesterday being charged by a brother celestial with stealing a watch and chain and a pair of trousers. The case was tried by Mayor Fell, as the robbery had been committed on the premises of Mr. Johnson, S.M. The prisoner was remanded until Wednesday and admitted to bail, $250 in two sureties of $125 each.

Railway Extension.

The annual meeting of the Oregon Improvement company will be held June 20th. The stockholders will act upon the proposed issue of $2,000,000 seven per cent. preferred stock to be subscribed for at par. The proceeds will be applied to extinguish the floating debt, $538,000; to extend the Pacific coast railway, $190,000; to extend the Columbia & Puget Sound railway, $500,000; and to provide three new iron steamers for the Pacific Coast Steamship line, $675,000.

The School Examinations.

We understand the government have decided to change the day of the midsummer school examinations throughout the province to Friday, June 17th. This is done with the intention of allowing teachers and scholars to participate in the jubilee celebration of the week following. In Victoria, New Westminster and Nanaimo, the examinations will be held on the 15th, 16th and 17th of June. The government are to be commended for their generosity in this matter.

Railroad Work.

Work on the grade of the Seattle and Eastern railway is progressing finely, and with the exception of a few cuts which remain to be filled and some light trestling on the Smith farm, the grade of the first ten miles is now ready for the ties, which a large force of men are now employed in getting out. The company will use nothing but hewen ties 7x9 inches and 9 feet long upon which they will lay a sixty pound rail, the heaviest on the coast. The first twenty miles of Earle & Co.'s thirty-mile contract will be finished in a month and by the time iron arrives fully thirty miles of the road will be in shape to begin track laying.—Seattle Times.

Assault Cases.

Yesterday morning about 4 o'clock Andrew Alston and Morgan Hayes committed an assault on M. C. Nangle and it was stated, cut his ear half off. The men were arrested and a complaint sworn to against them by officer Robb. Nangle, who was unable to appear, sent word that he did not wish to prosecute, but as the charge is a serious one his honor decided to remand the prisoners until Thursday. They were allowed out on bail of $50 in one surety each besides themselves.

John Hayes and John F. Thompson were charged by officer Robb with fighting on the streets. When asked how he pleaded, Hayes said he was guilty of fighting but it was more in self defense on his part. Thompson intimated that he was drunk at the time and knew little or nothing about the affair. Officer Robb then gave his evidence after which Hayes made a statement that was not denied by Thompson. The latter was fined $5 while Hayes was discharged. It appears the prisoner, Thompson, was heavily loaded at the time and assailed Jack, who being a pugilist of no mean merit, punished his man pretty badly.

The Bath Geyser.

A. G. Ferguson, commission agent, exhibits in the window of Miller & Hunter, COLONIST building, a water heating apparatus, that will prove of the greatest convenience to all who require large quantities of hot water, and especially for the purpose of bathing. It is a cylindrical machine, the upper portion of which consists of a large number of copper spiral tubes. Water is introduced direct from the city pipes, and is thrown on a flat surface, leading from which are very small perforations. Through these the water passes down through the copper springs to the pipe leading to the bath-tub or wherever it is necessary to lead the hot water. To heat the water a gas jet is introduced below, which heats the internal part of the Geyser, so that immediately the water leaves the top it is continuously being worked by heat. The copper springs separate and heat it, when it falls on the flat surface of a cone of sheet iron. This completes the work, for the water, which enters at the top icy cold, flows out at the bottom at a boiling heat. Where gas is introduced into a house hot water in any quantity may be had at any time of the day or night with the only trouble of lighting it and turning on the water. The machine was working yesterday and attracted considerable attention.

For Shawnigan Lake.

The Victoria Transfer Co. will run buses to Russell station to-day to meet all trains. Fare for the round trip, fifty cents.

Boat Race.

There will be a boat race for $60 a crew between men from H. M. ships Triumph and Cormorant to-morrow evening at 6 o'clock. The course chosen is from Esquimalt wharf around Magazine island and return, a distance of about four miles.

A Monster Wolf.

Capt. Jagers brought down from Saturna island yesterday a large wolf, which fell a prey to the unerring aim of Lieut. Payne. The wolf when stretched out measures about six feet from tip to tip, and is a fine specimen.

Vancouver Excursionists.

The steamer Amelia went to Vancouver and ports on Burrard Inlet yesterday morning for excursionists to Shawnigan lake. From all accounts a large number of people will take passage on the Amelia, which will take them to Chemainus where they will be transferred to the train for the lake.

Willis Bond Again.

The case of Henry Gant was concluded in the police court yesterday. Mr. Bond was there as counsel for the defendant, and as usual asked a great many irrelevant questions which took up considerable precious time, and resulted in Gant's having to pay into the city treasury the sum of $10.

Change of Steamers.

The Yosemite left this morning for Vancouver in place of the Princess Louise, which lays up for some time for repairs. The R. P. Rithet, having been painted and otherwise repaired, goes to New Westminster to-morrow morning. We understand that the Vancouver boat will leave at 2 o'clock a. m. as formerly, until the return of Capt. Irving from San Francisco.

Macauley's Point Battle.

The sham battle at Macauley's Point was witnessed by a number of people yesterday morning. The sailors and marines of H. M. fleet arrived at the point about 9 o'clock and a few minutes later were put through the various drills. The battle was most interesting and the fact that the men presented a thorough British aspect and went through the evolutions and manœuvres in grand style, was enough to convince the admiring spectators that in case of any eruption in foreign countries this province would at least be well protected.

The Farwell Cases.

A special session of the supreme court of Canada has been convened to hear argument upon the appeal taken by the Dominion government from the decision of Mr. Justice Henry in favor of A. S. Farwell, G. B. Wright and others, holding them entitled to hold the lands upon the line of the Canadian Pacific railway known as Farwell—now Revelstoke—townsite, and other lands in the vicinity. The minister of justice, Hon. J. S. D. Thompson, will argue the cases on behalf of the Dominion and Mr. Theo. Davie, who leaves here for Ottawa on Thursday, will take charge of the case for the defendants.

Trans-Pacific Service.

Senator Macdonald has asked the following question in the senate: Whether, in the event of the Imperial government giving a subsidy to and entering into an agreement with any steamship company or others, for a mail service between the town of Vancouver, British Columbia, and Japan, China or Australia, the Dominion government will, in accordance with recommendation previously made, invite the Imperial government to stipulate that such steamship shall call at Victoria or Esquimalt on the inward and outward voyages, and whether in the event of the Dominion government entering into an agreement with any such steamship company for the performance of a similar service, will it require a similar stipulation?

The Race Course.

Among the many attractions for to-day will be the races at the Victoria Driving park. Admirers of horse flesh should not fail to be present as the races promise to be of a high order. Following are the entries which were made up to a late hour last night:

COLT RACE.

Ben, entered by Geo. Elrick; Mustang Jerry, entered by Geo. Bushbury; Billy the Kid, entered by F. W. Risk; Molly, entered by J. Lascelle; Skilleton, entered by Geo. Rudge; Maggie, entered by Wm. McNiffe.

FREE TO ALL TROTTING RACE.

J. E. G., entered by Pen Briggs; Fanny Irving, entered by W. S. Dickson; Ben and Five, entered by Geo. Rudge; Larry O'Neil, entered by J. A. T. Caton.

THREE MINUTE RACE.

Dart, entered by Thos. Shaw; J. I. C., entered by Geo. Rudge; Simpson, entered by Frank Davis; Longfellow, entered by Joe Miller.

The Mutineers.

The men of the Lottie Fairfield, charged by their captain with mutiny on the 11th of May near Queen Charlotte Island, again appeared before the magistrate yesterday morning.

Mr. Bodwell, who appeared for the captain, said in view of the position his honor had taken in the case, if permitted, he would withdraw the prosecution.

Mr. Taylor said he did not think there was much to be said on his part, but supposed that the withdrawal of the prosecution was equal to a dismissal of the men. Of course the crew, who are a pretty intelligent looking lot, must know that they got off on a technical point of law, and not on their merits. He requested his honor to dismiss the charge altogether.

Mr. Bodwell objected to such a course being taken and was upheld by his honor, who then permitted the prosecution to be withdrawn, allowing the men to go.

A Series of Runaways.

A horse driven by Mr. Dumbleton, of Hall, Goepel & Co., of this city, ran away on Sunday while being driven through Lover's lane, near Ross bay cemetery. Mr. Fred Carne was coming down the road at the time but managed to escape a collision; which seemed imminent. The horse flew at a tremendous rate along the lane until he neared McNeil's gate, which he tried to clear. As his body touched the iron railings the gate gave way thus preventing a serious calamity. Mr. Dumbleton then managed to quiet the infuriated beast and drove him him quietly to town.

The pole of a wagon in which was seated a farmer named Smith, of Cedar hill, broke while the horses were being driven down the Jewish cemetery hill yesterday morning. One of the horses was seriously injured.

A horse attached to Mr. J. A. T. Caton's rig broke away from a post to which it was fastened on Yates street yesterday morning. On nearing Government street the buggy ran against a telephone post sustaining damage. The horse was secured but not until he had kicked the skin off a portion of his hind legs.

Empire Brewery Burned.

The Empire Brewery at Spring Ridge was almost totally consumed by fire between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning. The loss is heavy; insurance not learned.

The Knights Coming.

Geo. S. Knight and his talented company of artists have concluded to play here one night and will arrive on the Elder next Monday. They will present "Over the Garden Wall."

The John Case.

We learn that the points raised in this case have been submitted to the minister of justice for decision, the chief justice having declined to state any case for the opinion of the full bench of judges, which body, without the matter being referred to them by the presiding judge, have no jurisdiction to review his decision. Should the minister of justice refuse to interfere a writ of error will be prosecuted. Except when a case is stated by the judge who tries the case, or a writ of error is granted, there exists no appeal in criminal cases.

Whistler, the Wrestler.

Whistler, the famous wrestler, will give the sporting public an out door free show when he returns, consisting of feats of strength such as to pull against two of the strongest horses in Victoria and walking on top of water on the James Bay with shoes invented by himself. Whistler is the only man who has accomplished this wonderful feat. In New York he walked across the Harlem river. He is also an aquatic wonder as well as a wrestler and stands to-day without a rival in the arena. He holds the championship medal presented by Richard K. Fox. This trophy will be on exhibition in a few days.

THE HOLIDAY.

Where to Go to Enjoy the Celebration of Her Majesty's Birthday.

There are many ways in which the pleasure seeker may to-day pass the time with keen enjoyment. The many beauties surrounding Victoria offer at all times opportunities for pleasure, but to-day special arrangements have been made on behalf of our citizens, and the individual will be hard indeed to please whose wants are not fully catered to.

The chief event of the day will be the picnic and regatta at given by the Oddfellows in aid of the jubilee hospital. It promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs ever held on the island. The beautiful scenery which surrounds the lake make it destined to become the most popular picnic ground in the province. The spacious hotel erected by Chas. Morton is bound to prove a success, and will bring many dollars to the purse of that enterprising gentleman. He is able to provide for the comforts of excursionists in the most thorough manner. The regetta itself will be an attraction well worth a trip to the lakes and the games in which a large number of amateur sportsmen will take part, will no doubt be very interesting. Coupled with these, those who do not care to view the sports can retire to the woods, where a most desirable afternoon, especially to the little ones, can be passed. Many tickets to the excursion have already been disposed of at the very low rate of $1.50 for the round trip and 25 cents for children, and the Oddfellows are to be commended for their exertions. Trains leave Russell's station at 7 a.m., 8:20 a.m., 10 a.m., 12 noon, and 2 p.m. Returning trains will leave the lake at 3 p.m., 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Additional trains will be run if necessary. The Queen City band will be in attendance throughout the entire day and in the evening an orchestra comprising members of the band will play for the dancers.

BLUE RIBBON PICNIC.

The celebration at Agricultural hall promises to be a grand affair. During the afternoon a programme of games will be carried out and dancing will be indulged in during the evening. The committee have decorated the grounds and spacious hall. A number of ladies belonging to the club will have charge of the refreshment stands. The proceeds will be devoted to Jubilee Hospital, and arrangements have been completed to pass an enjoyable holiday and to celebrate her majesty's birthday in a becoming manner.

THE VICTORIA GARDENS,

The New Summer Resort on Victoria Arm, Above the Gorge Bridge.

The great natural beauties of the Victoria Arm have been utilized to a certain extent during the past two years for residential purposes, and many handsome homes have been built along its shores. There is no more delightful spot in the world to while away an hour or two, or an evening, by rowing up its placid waters, and as a picnic ground it has been the one place above all others that a small or large party would select for a day's outing. While this is the case up to date, very little had been done to attract strangers and provide conveniences. However, this is to a certain extent provided for. Mr. J. Loewen, of Loewen & Erb, during the past several years has been acquiring the property from the upper right hand side of the Gorge bridge, and is now the possessor of about twelve acres. This has a water frontage along the Arm from the Gorge bridge for over a thousand yards and comprises one of the loveliest of the numerous charming spots on the Arm. A portion of it had been previously occupied by the house known as the "Gorge Retreat," but nothing had been done to make the place artificially attractive. Now the property has been fenced in between the water and the Gorge road for its full length, and has been laid off into walks and gardens by a landscape gardener, and for some time past a number of men have been engaged in clearing the place from underbrush and carrying out the design of making it a summer resort. The old building has been remodeled and a wing added on, while a spacious dancing pavilion has been erected. Everything is now bright and comfortable in the hotel and the arrangements are good for the scheme to be carried out this year. The grounds are picturesquely laid out in lawns and flower gardens, and although it is not expected that everything will be perfect this year, the grass which has been sown is already springing up, and it is expected in a short time that there will be lovely stretches of emerald green and rows and beds of flowers of innumerable color and variety. The banks are being driven with piles and a line of trees planted along the shore. Here and there trees have been left in the grounds, and surrounded by seats, where one can sit and enjoy the delightful scene beneath wide-spreading branches. In the upper portion of the grounds the trees have been thinned out, the old stumps removed, and picturesque walks made. A float has been put out for boats, and it is the intention to build a board passage with rustic railing from the float to the other side of the bridge, so that when the tide is running too strong parties may either tie their boats below the bridge or pull them through along the passage. Every possibly convenience will be added to render the grounds so attractive that they will become the popular resort of Victoria's citizens. For those who prefer driving, spacious stabling has been provided. There is a splendid well of pure water, over which it is intended to place a windmill pump, and distribute water by means of pipes to all parts of the grounds, erecting fountains, etc.

The grounds lying to the upper side of the road, and which rise in a gentle ascent, will be converted into shady walks. It is the object at present to only thin out the trees and place walks here and there, but if the present accommodation proves too small, it is the intention of the proprietor to erect a handsome summer hotel on the highest point of the ground. This would make a magnificent site for a hotel, for from its second storey, around which would be wide balconies, the city and straits could be seen and landscape of a most charming character visible. The pure and invigorating atmosphere will render the place doubly pleasant, for visitors would be absent from any impurities that may be met with within the city limits. So soon as things are in full blast, omnibuses will run between the hotel and the city.

THE VICTORIA GARDENS,

as the new resort is named, has been leased by Mr. B. Wrede, who has furnished the hotel in a first class manner, and has made every arrangement for the accommodation of guests. But a limited number can be provided with lodging, but picnic parties, and every visitor who comes can be provided with lunches, iced drinks and ice cream, coffee, tea, or whatever they may require. It has always been a drawback to a picnic party that there was no place at which a few luxuries that cannot be carried safely, could not be procured, but this will now no longer be the case. Dancing parties may secure the hall and make arrangements for supper and music, and no more enjoyable spot could be secured for holding such an event. The guests could row or steam up the arm, and wile the hours away in the mazy dance, returning in the moonlight. The "Victoria Gardens" will prove a welcome attraction and convenience to the many who resort to the Arm for pleasure, and its enterprising promoter and lessee will no doubt reap a handsome reward for their enterprise.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from the teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, and take no other. d&w

ISLAND MOUNTAIN QUARTZ.

The Company Make the Necessary Requirements and Will Secure the $20,000 Guarantee.

It is understood that the Island Mountain Quartz Mining and Milling Co. have complied with all the requirements of the act granting bonuses and guarantees to quartz mills, and are now qualified to draw on the government for the $20,000 applied for under the act. We congratulate Mr. Peter Dunlevy, of Soda creek, who is chief owner in the mine and president of the company, upon being the first to secure the aid granted by the government, and also the district of Cariboo upon being thus enabled to test one of the most promising quartz ledges in the district. Mr. Dunlevy has been most energetic in forwarding the quartz interests of the district, has expended his money and time when the great majority scouted the idea, and it is trusted that in the immediate future he will reap a substantial benefit from his enterprise.

Island Mountain mine has been several times described in this paper, through Mr. Geo. Koch's report, and also by the correspondent of this paper, who visited Cariboo last fall. The old Kurtz & Lane engines and boilers and the Enterprise Co.'s stamp mill are in the possession of the company, and will be at once moved to the mill site prepared for them last fall at Jack of Clubs lake, while chlorination or smelting works, whichever is best adapted for treating the ore, will be erected during the summer months. Considerable work has already been done on the ledge by running in tunnels, etc., and it is understood that the engineer's report to the government states that there is ten thousand tons of ore in sight. The ledge is of considerable width, and at whatever point it has been struck, assays and mill tests made resulted highly favorable.

As soon as possible a strictly competent mining superintendent will be secured, who will visit the mine and pronounce upon the best method for extracting the gold from the rock. The latter contains considerable free gold, and rich sulphurets, and has assayed and milled very highly. Should it prove remunerative upon being extensively worked, it will mean the influx of large capital, and the development of Cariboo to an extent never dreamed of by its most ardent supporters.

A BUSYBODY IN PRINT.

TO THE EDITOR:—I have not the pleasure of an acquaintance with some of the parties to the lamentable controversy that arose through the deplorable indiscretion of Dr. Præger in telegraphing in ungentlemanly terms a denial of the statements of your Nanaimo reporter. This controversy which all hoped had ended, has been revived by an equally indiscreet, if not equally ungentlemanly letter, signed by a Mr. Harvey and printed in a Nanaimo paper. What object Mr. Harvey could have had in view in digging up a dead and painful issue, I cannot conceive, but the defiance hurled at him and Dr. Præger in your issue to-day breathes the proper spirit. Not alone that, but a correspondent in last night's Times sustains in every essential particular your reporter's statement. He only differs as to the propriety of making the exposé at that time. The proprieties of the case, I should think, may be safely left with the newspaper itself; and not with Dr. Præger, whose telegram stands out in painful contrast with your calm and gentlemanly rejoinder. The only excuse I can find for the doctor is that he lost his head during the calamity and is scarcely accountable for what he then said or did. No such excuse can be found for Mr. Harvey, who has had three weeks to ponder over the matter and stands before the community as an inexcusable meddler.

MEDICO.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Astema, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada. dw

From Dawn till Doom.

There has been such a pressure upon the safety valve of business for a limited period that their overstrained tensions require attention. This necessitates our keeping open later, more fully to enjoy the coming "Midsummer night's dream" and condole with Shylock.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & CO.,

I wish I had used B.B.B. sooner, which would have saved me years of suffering with erysipelas, from which I could get no relief until I tried B. B. B., which soon cleared away the itching, burning rash that so long distressed me. Mrs. Edward Romkey, Eastern Passage, Halifax, N. S.
